DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1 – 11 and 21- 24, drawn to a method and a computer-readable medium for computing a performance parameter of a portfolio based upon the relative weights of component securities comprising the first portfolio, classified in class 705, subclass 36.
- II. Claims 12 - 20, drawn to a method for computing a performance parameter of a portfolio based upon comparison of the first portfolio, and one or more baseline portfolios, classified in class 705, subclass 36.
- III. Claims 25 – 39 and 50 – 53 drawn to a method and a computer-readable medium for computing a performance parameter of a portfolio based upon the time-based analysis of sales and purchase of the component securities comprising the first portfolio, classified in class 705, subclass 36.
- IV. Claims 40 – 49 and 54 – 58 drawn to method and a computer-readable medium for computing a performance parameter of a portfolio based upon comparison of changes in the security composition of the first portfolio over a time period, and changes in the security composition of the one or more baseline portfolios over a time period, classified in class 705, subclass 36.

The inventions are independent or distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions I - IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable.

In the instant case, Invention I has separate utility as a portfolio analysis methodology based upon the relative weights of component securities within the portfolio. Invention II has separate utility as a portfolio analysis methodology based upon comparison to other baseline portfolios. Invention III has separate utility as a portfolio analysis methodology based upon a time-based analysis of the marketplace, such as through monitoring sales and purchases of the portfolio's component securities. Finally, Invention IV has separate utility as portfolio analysis methodology through comparison of changes in a portfolio's composition with the changes in a baseline portfolio's composition over a time period. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter and/or their different required searches, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Response

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
